

Introduction to Ubuntu

July 2013

- Automation and Tools Engineer at HP, focusing on OpenStack project infrastructure
- Ubuntu Community Council Member
- Director of Partimus.org

It is...

- Free: As in beer
- Free: As in speech
- Available as source code

As a result...

- Collaborative
- Customizable
- No vendor lock-in

ubuntu[®]

Ubuntu Desktop

🔋 📶 🔊 2:39 PM ⚙️

LibreOffice Writer

You Searched For

ITT TECH

Complete the short form below to learn more about ITT Tech.

First Name *

Last Name *

Street Address *

Apartment Number

City *

State * --Select--

Zip Code *

Phone * - -

Year of High School Graduation * Select A Year

E-Mail *

Campus you would like information on * --Select--

Program of Study * --Select--

- Version of Linux based on Debian
- Founded by Mark Shuttleworth
- Initial release in October 2004: 4.10 (code name: Warty Warthog)
- Releases every 6 months, with Long-Term Support releases every 2 years
- Open, community-driven development with core funding from Canonical
- Estimated desktop users: over 20 million

- “humanity toward others”
- “I am what I am because of who we all are”

- Every computer user should have the freedom to download, run, copy, distribute, study, share, change and improve their software for any purpose, without paying licensing fees
- Every computer user should be able to be able to use their software in the language of their choice
- Every computer user should be given every opportunity to use software, even if they work under disability

- Be considerate
- Be respectful
- Be collaborative
- When you disagree, consult others
- When you are unsure, ask for help
- Step down considerately
- <http://www.ubuntu.com/community/conduct>

- Predictable and frequent releases
- A strong focus on ease of use and user-friendliness on the desktop
- Strong focus on Python as the programming language as choice for development
- A community-driven approach that worked with existing projects
- Backing from Canonical

Contact:

- ubuntu-california.org
- Elizabeth Krumbach Joseph <lyz@ubuntu.com>

- Ubuntu Developer Summit Oneiric Sean Sosik-Hamor, May 2011
- Ubuntu Developer Summit Quantal Sean Sosik-Hamor, May 2012
- All other presentation material by Elizabeth Krumbach Joseph
- All content contained within this presentation is licensed as CC BY-SA